SURVIVAL GAMES*Forest Canopy Walk

Traverse the 10-foot high, 500-meter long bamboo walkway that snakes through trees lining the Forest Club property. The risk is to complete the course and not give in to fear and exhaustion.

Mud Crawl

Enhance the earth! Crawl through a 25-meter long circular mud course.

Single Rope Bridge

Cross from one end of the lagoon to the other using a 10-meter long single rope hanging bridge.

Bamboo Rafting

Pull yourself and a partner 25 meters across the lagoon atop a bamboo raft. It's not as easy as it looks. Balance and coordination is key.

Log Crossing

Walk or crawl — the decision is yours — atop a fallen log from one end of the lagoon to the other.

ARMHoldings, Inc.

Manilla Building Office: (02) 37249392

Obstacle Course

Teams complete head on in an obstacle course made up of a crawl, tires and logs. Speed and stamina are needed for this fast-paced game.

Ski Race

Teams try to outpace each other using a native "ski" fit for five players. Balance and teamwork are key to this fun activity.

Buko Relay

Team members take turn moving coconuts from one end of the field to the other. Strategy rather than speed is key to this activity.

Four Way Tug of War

Four teams wage war at the same time. Only one team wins. And the prize does not always go to the strongest.

Marble Breakers Office 707-435-8137/24

POOL AND WATER GAMES

Peart Diving

Tennis of divers try to collect as many marbles scattered on the pool's floor. Tennis with the most marbles at the end of the game wins.

Leaking Tank

Tennis attempt to fill up a PVC pipe with water using a bucket. Only problem is both the PVC pipes and the buckets are filled with holes.

Seal Race

Ricky race where swimmers have to push a beach ball across the pool without using their hands and arms.

TRUST GAMES

Human Pyramid

Teams of at least 10 members each attempt to build three-layer human towers at the quickest possible time and without anyone falling off.

Elevated Fall

Fall from a height into the waiting arms of your group mates. This activity is all about trust. It requires trust and it builds trust.

Mine Field

Get all your blindfolded team members across a "mine field." This is an activity that tests a group's trust and communication skills.

Count Out

Line up according to height, alphabetically or age. Sounds easy? Now try it with everybody blindfolded and not allowed to speak!

Spider Web

Each member must go through the spider web without touching any part of the web and by using each hole only once.

All Aboard!

Teams try to fit all its members into a small area in an activity that emphasizes group communication, cooperation, patience and problem solving strategy.
